Princess V42

Launched in 1999, the Princess V42 was to prove a hugely popular and capable boat during its seven-year production run. In 2006, the V42 was to have a second bite of the cherry, when a mildly facelifted mk2 version followed in its footsteps. However, at the 2009 London Boat Show, a totally new V42, referred to as the mk3, was launched. Contemporary styling, a 1ft growth in both length and beam, and taller topsides made the last V42 a totally different boat.
